University of Missouri

OBJECTIVES

- Articulate the logic, spirit, and core strategies associated with a motivational interviewing (MI) approach in working with teachers
- Implement MI strategies (including the OARS, identifying and differentially responding to change talk, and strategic planning) while minimizing MI-inconsistent responses
- Provide an overview of the Classroom Check Up model and its use in promoting teacher fidelity of effective practices
60 SECOND CONVERSATION

- Turn to the person next to you and tell them one goal you would like to accomplish by the end of the session today

THE CLASSROOM CHECK-UP
Teacher consultation approach for promoting effective classroom management practices
- MI integrated throughout the CCU
- Can be adapted to promote any effective practice

Key Components
- Assesses Critical Classroom Management Variables
- Provide Personalized Feedback
- Develop an Individualized Intervention Plan Collaboratively with the Teacher
- Provide ongoing Feedback & Support

GETTING PEOPLE TO CHANGE

The most challenging part of consulting with teachers is getting them to do what I want them to do.

~Classroom Coach

The Hard Stuff

A TASTE OF MI

- Negative Practice
- Positive Practice
NEGATIVE PRACTICE

- Speaker role: Identify a change that you are considering, something you are thinking about changing in your life, but have not definitely decided. It will be something you feel two ways about. It might be a change that would be good for you, that you should make for some reason, but have been putting off. Tell the consultant about this change you are considering.

- Listener role: Use as many of the roadblocks to listening as you can to persuade the speaker to change

ROADBLOCKS TO LISTENING

- Ordering, directing, commanding
- Warning or threatening
- Giving advice, suggestions, solutions
- Persuading with logic, arguing, or lecturing
- Moralizing, preaching, telling what should do
- Disagreeing, judging, criticizing, blaming
- Agreeing, approving, praising
- Shaming, ridiculing, labeling
- Interpreting or analyzing
- Reassuring, sympathizing, or consoling
- Questioning or probing
- Withdrawing, distracting, humoring, or changing subject
POSITIVE PRACTICE

- Listener role: Don’t try to persuade or fix anything. Don’t offer advice. Instead ask these four questions one at a time, and listen carefully to what the person says:
  - Why would you want to make this change?
  - If you did decide to make this change, how might you go about it in order to succeed?
  - What are the three best reasons for you to do it?
  - How important would you say it is for you to make this change, on a scale from 0 to 10, where 0 is not at all important, and 10 is extremely important? [Follow-up question: And why are you at _____ rather than a lower number of 0?]

MOTIVATIONAL INTERVIEWING: THE BASICS
DEFINITION

Motivational Interviewing is a collaborative conversation style for strengthening a person’s own motivation and commitment to change.

“motivational conversation”

Miller & Rollnick, 2013, p. 29

---

THEORY

- The way a consultant interacts with a consultee impacts the consultee’s language, which then impacts behavior.

- Consultant pushes change → Consultee resists → Change is unlikely

- OR

- Consultant elicits change talk → Change is likely

CONTINUUM OF STYLES

TWO BIG IDEAS

- MI Spirit
  - If teachers come to believe that you genuinely accept and understand them, you have created the setting for them to move in positive directions.

- Change Talk
  - If you learn to hear change talk it becomes your guide to doing MI
MI SPIRIT

- Partnership
- Acceptance
- Evocation
- Compassion

CHANGE TALK

- Desire:
  - “I wish...”
  - “Something really needs to change.” “I’m hoping that...”

- Ability:
  - “I can do this.”
  - “This is something I do really well, so this won’t be a problem.”

- Reasons/Benefits of Change:
  - “If I get control of the classroom, I think it will help all of my students to feel good about themselves and their abilities.”
  - “If this works, it will give me more time to get to the content.”
Need/Problems with Status Quo:
- “Without some changes I don’t think I can make it through the year.”
- “I go home every day from work just feeling exhausted.”
- “I don’t think the students are learning very much this year with all the distractions.”

Commitment:
- “I will try your suggestions.”
- “I’m going to pay attention to my use of praise this week.”
- “The first thing I will do is to post my new rules and teach them to the students tomorrow.”

COMMITMENT TALK

- Special instance of change talk
  - Intention to change (“I will do this”)

- Commitment talk towards end of meeting is the best predictor of whether people will change
BUZZ: IS IT CHANGE TALK?

- Read the following and circle any examples of change talk (see Handout: Change Talk Exercise)
- I’m worried that if I don’t get control of this class soon that I’m not going to make it through the year.
- It just seems like we’re wasting a lot of time this year waiting for students to settle down.
- Yeah, I know it’s important to have a fast pace, but you know this year I have the low group and I worry that they won’t be able to keep up.
- I would like to be better at setting limits with students.

MOTIVATIONAL INTERVIEWING STRATEGIES

Use Your OARS

Evoking Change Talk

Responding to Change Talk

Responding to Resistance (Sustain Talk)
THE MI ‘OARS’

- Open-ended questions
- Affirmations
- Reflections
- Summaries

OARS

- Open-Ended Questions (can’t be answered in a single word)
  - “What are your concerns about...?”
  - “Why do you want to make these changes?”
  - “How have you handled these problems in the past?”

- Affirmations (specific and genuine):
  - “You’re really putting a lot of thought and time into this.”
  - “I see how hard you are working.”
  - “You did an amazing job with praise this week.”
OARS

- Reflective Statements (strategy of paraphrasing comments while giving special attention to the implied feelings):
  - “You’re really frustrated by how things are going.”
  - “You’re having fun in your class.”
  - “You just really want the best for these kids.”

- Summaries (two or three sentences to draw connections):
  - “So let me make sure I’m understanding all of the big ideas so far. You’re feeling pretty worn out from all the chaos in your classroom this year and taking on new classroom strategies just seems like another burden right now. At the same time, part of you is hopeful that spending time on it now could eventually give you more time.”

QUESTIONS THAT EVOKE CHANGE TALK: DARN-C

See handout: Questions that Evoke Change Talk

- Desire
  - Tell me about things you want to be different.

- Ability/ Optimism About Change
  - What makes you think you could do it?

- Reasons/Benefits of Change
  - How would you like things to be different?

- Need for Change/ Disadvantage of Status Quo
  - What makes you think that you may need to make a change?

- Concern
  - What worries you about your ____?

- Commitment/ Intention to Change
  - What would you be willing to do?
60 SECOND BUZZ
EVOKING CHANGE TALK WITH QUESTIONS

- Turn to the person next to you and ask them any question on the handout Questions that Evoke Change Talk about a behavior they are considering changing.
- Listen for their response and decide if it is an example of change talk.
- Switch roles.

EVOKING WITH QUESTIONS

Consultant: What do you want support with?

Teacher: I would love support with disrespectful behaviors in the class. The calling out, the yelling at teachers. I mean just constant lack of regard for the rules. I hate the talking while you’re teaching, the out of seat behaviors. I just want help getting them to do anything that they are supposed to be doing.

Open-ended question

Change talk: desire and reasons for change
Teacher: For me it’s a time thing. It takes longer to quiet people down by praising the students who are on task and waiting for the others to get on task than to just tell them.

Consultant: What are the disadvantages of doing that?

T: Well it doesn’t always work especially for the kids who like to talk out.

C: What would be the advantage of doing both, stating your expectation, “Sit quietly,” and then praising those who meet the expectation?

T: Well it helps clean up the mess. It gives me another tool for getting everyone on task. So most kids will sit quietly when I ask and then the praise for those kids might draw the others in. Plus, it’s also nice giving attention to the kids who always do the right thing. It’s easy to overlook them, but this way I’ll be giving them the attention they deserve.

IMPORTANCE/CONFIDENCE RULERS

- How important would you say it is for you to ________? On a scale from 0 to 10, where 0 is not at all important and 10 is extremely important, where would you say you are?

  0  2  4  6  8  10

  Not at all Important Extremely Important

- Why are you at a ____ and not zero?

- What would it take for you to go from ___ to [a higher number]?

- And how confident would you say you are, that if you decided to ________, you could do it? On the same scale from 0-10, where would you say you are?
60 SECOND BUZZ
EVOKING CHANGE TALK WITH RULERS

- In groups of three
  - Speaker: Talk about a problem you would like to change.
  - Coach: Ask the Ruler questions.
  - Observer: Listen for change talk.

RESPONDING TO CHANGE TALK

- Elaborating change talk
- Affirming change talk
- Reflecting change talk
- Summarizing change talk
KEEPING IT GOING: ELABORATING CHANGE TALK W/ REFLECTIONS

Consultant: What would you like to be different?

Teacher: I talk too much. I know I do. I want to fix that but I don’t know how to fix it.

C: You feel very strongly that you are talking too much and this interferes with your classroom.

T: Yes. I know my message gets lost on students if I say too much. I know they hear me better and are more likely to respond positively if I can be concise.

C: So you want to learn how to give effective commands. That makes a lot of sense to me.

RESPONDING TO RESISTANCE: DON’TS (RESPONSES TO AVOID)

- Education: Uninvited Information-Giving
  - Easy to fall into the trap of giving information in response to a resistant statement
  - “Research has shown that...”
  - This is a subtle (sometimes not so subtle) trap of taking sides.
  - The implied message is, “If only you knew a little more you would feel differently.”
  - The most likely response to uninvited information giving after a resistance response is further resistance (“Yes, but...”).
  - Invited or well-timed information-giving can be helpful.

- Argument: Giving Reasons Why Change Would be Good
  - “This can really help you by...”

- Premature Solutions (“Have you tried ...,” “What if you...”)

- Self-Disclosure

- Authority/Pressure/Guilt
RESPONDING TO RESISTANCE: DO’S: GUIDING PRINCIPLES

- Resist the Righting Reflex
- Finding the Gem
  - Listen for strengths, values, good intentions
    - T: “I have tried all of these strategies that we’ve been discussing—building strong relationships, praising, proactive teaching. I’ve used them all year and with Alex it just doesn’t work.”
    - C: “You’ve been really committed to making a difference for this boy, and you really wish you had seen more progress. I admire your persistence. And what a gift you have given him this year. I bet he has had few other people in his life stick with him like that. That’s something that stays with children much longer than we know or see in the short-term.”
- Focus on the Child’s Perspective
  - “What do you think the student is learning when you say (do) that...” or “What do you want your students to learn from...”

RESPONDING TO RESISTANCE: SPECIFIC RESPONSES

- Simple reflection
- Amplified reflection
- Double-sided reflection
- Shifting focus
- Reframing
- Agreeing with a twist
- Emphasize personal choice and control
- Coming along side

See Miller & Rollnick, 2013
RESPONDING TO SUSTAIN TALK

- Roll with it—don’t argue against it!
- When in doubt, Reflect or Shift the Focus
- Practice:
  - Teacher A: “This just isn’t my style of teaching; I have control over my class and don’t need this classroom management strategy.”
  - Teacher B: “I don’t have the time to fit this into my schedule with everything else I have going on right now.”
  - Teacher C: “I’ve tried my best and nothing is working. I am not really open to doing much more.”

Teacher A: “This just isn’t my style of teaching; I have control over my class and don’t need this classroom management strategy.”

- Simple Reflection: “It feels intrusive to be asked to try a new teaching style.”
- Double-Side Reflection: “On the one hand, this is an uncomfortable to be trying to merge these strategies with your teaching style. On the other hand, you are curious how it would feel in your classroom to make it a little more flexible/fun.”
- Reframe: “You really are knowledgeable about how to make your classroom predictable for students. Whatever strategies that you add will have to not interfere with the structure you’ve established.”
- Shifting Focus: “What do you see as your biggest strengths as a teacher, things you do particularly well?”
- Emphasizing Personal Choice: “I’m definitely not here to try to convince you to do something you don’t want to do. The only changes that will happen in your class are ones that you choose to make.”
Teacher B: “I don't have the time to fit this into my schedule with everything else I have going on right now.”

- Amplified Reflection: “On your long list of things to do, this would be at the very bottom.”
- Reframe: “You are really committed to doing things the right way.”
- Shifting Focus: “Rather than focusing on taking on something new, let’s talk about what is going well in your classroom so far.”
- Coming Alongside: “Maybe this is the wrong time to work on classroom management. It just seems like a waste of time compared to your other priorities.”
- Query Extremes: “If things keep going as they are now, what’s the best outcome you can imagine for your class? How about the flipside, what’s the worst you can imagine?”
- Look Forward/Backward: “Let’s look into the future and tell me what you want your class to look like at the end of the year.”

Teacher C: “I’ve tried my best and nothing is working. I am not really open to doing much more.”

- Simple Reflection: “It’s really frustrating to put in so much effort and not see much progress.”
- Reframe: “You just want so much to make a difference in these kids lives and it’s hard to wait and see if the changes you’ve made are going to stick with these kids.”
- Shifting Focus: “Before focusing on the students, I wonder if we could take a step back for a moment and reflect on all the positive changes you have made.”
- Emphasizing Personal Choice: “What we do next is completely your decision.”
- Agreement with a Twist: “You could see kids really taking advantage of this, so it will be really important that we monitor this and make sure it’s having the effects that research has shown in other classrooms.”
- Coming Alongside: “This has become such a burden. Even these meetings feel like I’m asking you to do more and more. Maybe we need to take a break.”
- Values Queries: “You have been working so hard on this. Remind me what was driving you so hard to make all these changes.”

Visual Feedback of Strengths & Areas that Need Attention
STEP 3: MENU OF OPTIONS (PLANNING)

- During the Feedback Identify Possible Areas for Intervention
- Identify Areas that Teacher Finds Important
- Write Down All Possible Intervention Ideas
- Provides a Menu of Options
- Interventions build From Teacher Strengths
- Interventions Guided by Consultants Knowledge of Research

As you review the feedback write down areas that the teacher expresses interest in targeting.

Next, come up with some initial intervention ideas across the target areas.
STEP 4: SELECT INTERVENTION (PLANNING)

- Select One or Two Interventions from Menu
  - Intervention is collaboratively designed
  - Intervention is tailored to the needs of the classroom
- Develop an Action Plan for Implementation
  - This plan can guide self-monitoring

Classroom Check-Up

Teacher:
Grade: 5
Date: 3/1/2016

Those things going well in my classroom:
- Great rapport with kids

Areas I would like to focus toward improving in my classroom:
- Increase use of specific praise + reduce disruptions

Specifically, my goal is to:
- Improve the interaction ratio from 2:5 to 5:1

What actions will I take to meet this goal?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Task: What needs to be done?</th>
<th>Description of Plan</th>
<th>Resources: What is needed to get it done?</th>

How important is it for you to meet this goal in your classroom?

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

How confident are you that you will meet this goal in your classroom?

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

The most important reasons for making this change and meeting this goal is:
- Give more time for teaching lessons
- Praise help student alignment

Some reasons that I am confident:
- If I focus on this, I think I can do it
- I want to see more praise

Is there anything that could get in the way of meeting this goal?

- Getting behind
- Time

What can I do to help make sure this doesn’t get in the way?

- Work to schedule lesson planning

Look Up
- Practice
- Praise students

The Action Plan develops a specific goal and how it will be met. Also, assesses importance and confidence that the goal be achieved.
STEP 5: TEACHER SELF-MONITORS

Intervention Procedural Checklist

- Self-monitoring form guides daily intervention

Example Self-Monitoring Form
