

5 Rules of Responding

1. Don't direct peer pressure to a misbehavior publicly when the matter can be handled gently in private.
2. Do move toward the student creating an aura of personal contact.
3. Develop nonverbal cues.
4. Identify the misbehavior after the reprimand and direct the student toward the desired activity.
5. Direct the sanction to a specific person.